Portfolio

A practical, evidence-based, culturally safe and trauma-informed workshop partner for nonprofits and community programs.

What I deliver

- Interactive workshops that are ESL-friendly and accessible
- Slides + plain-language handouts
- Engagement strategies for mixed literacy and interpreter use
- Simple evaluation snapshot available for reporting

Who I work with

- Settlement/newcomer programs and LINC/ESL cohorts
- Employment readiness and workforce programs
- Disability employment and community supports
- Youth programs and women-centered groups
- Racialized and marginalized communities
- Educational/support programs for parents/elderly

Approach

Participant-centered facilitation using plain language, interactive activities, differentiated instruction and supportive reflection. Content is adaptable for time limits, interpreters, cultural context, and accessibility needs.

Facilitation principles

- Trauma-informed: Choice, safety, strengths-based language
- Culturally safe: Humility, respect, participants voice
- Evidence-based: Clear explanations based on science and research without jargon
- Practical: Tools participants can start using from the same day

Selected Experience

Examples of programs and contexts where my workshops have supported participant engagement and wellbeing goals.

Learning Enrichment Foundation (LEF)

- Abilities Workforce Program: Accessible wellbeing content for participants navigating disability-related barriers. Re-booked for 4 consecutive cohorts.
- LINC Program: ESL-friendly health education and mental wellbeing support for newcomers.
- Launch Your Career Program: Youth-focused mental wellness day, depression, and human rights.
- Wellness Network: Practical workshops supporting mental wellbeing and confidence. Re-booked for 3 consecutive cohorts.

ACCES Employment

- Workshop content for business/community audiences, including mental health components.
- Panelist for a mental health discussion at the start of COVID.

Testimonials

1. "Anmol translates complex health concepts into clear, engaging, and accessible messages for diverse audiences with an evidence-informed approach and exceptional presentation skills."
   - Masood Noora, Program Manager of Bridge Training Programs and Wellness Network at The learning Enrichment Foundation (LEF).
   Impact: Strong engagement and understanding across mixed literacy and cultural contexts.

2. "Anmol connected incredibly well with the youth, kept them engaged, and delivered the (mental wellness, anti-oppression and human rights) content in a knowledgeable and impactful way."
   - Program Coordinator, Launch Your Career program, LEF
   Impact: Youth remain engaged and leave with practical tools for wellbeing and self-advocacy.

3. "Won't change anything. Really enjoyed the session."
   - Participant
   Impact: Validated the workshop design and facilitation: engaging delivery, clear content, and a format participants wouldn't change.
